

BelievingFaith.com: a Christian blog to grow in faith

BelievingFaith.com (motto: “Faith Speaks”) is a Christian blog created for people who want to deepen their relationship with God through devotionals, biblical teaching, and practical reflections they can apply in everyday life. The site aims to be a place of spiritual encouragement, featuring articles centered on hope, perseverance, and trusting God’s Word.

Main topics on the website

The content is organized into clear sections, making it easy to find what you need based on your season of life or spiritual questions:

- Devotionals: short readings and meditations designed to strengthen daily faith.
- Faith: articles about what it means to believe, stay steady, and live an active, growing faith.
- Bible: deeper insights into biblical stories, spiritual principles, and Scripture-based explanations.
- Family: reflections on values, personal growth, and family life from a Christian perspective.
- Social topics: posts that connect faith with modern issues and everyday decisions.

This variety makes the blog helpful both for readers looking for quick inspiration and for those seeking deeper study and understanding of the biblical message.

Who writes it, and the purpose of the blog

The main author is Eric Dunbar, who also shares a personal testimony of transformation and spiritual growth. The blog’s mission is to encourage readers to know God more deeply, strengthen their identity in Christ, and face life’s challenges with a steadier, more informed faith.

Writing style and approach

BelievingFaith.com uses a direct, motivational style, often including:

- references to Bible verses and passages
- simple but meaningful explanations
- practical examples and real-life application
- invitations to pray, persevere, and trust God

Many posts focus on turning faith into action—how to endure difficult seasons, stay hopeful, and build a life rooted in strong spiritual foundations.

Additional resources

Beyond blog articles, the project also promotes faith-based resources aligned with the theme of “faith that speaks,” helping readers understand how God’s Word can shape thoughts, choices, and direction in life. Visitors can also subscribe to receive updates whenever new content is published.
